City, contractors negotiate costs

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Discussions between the apparent low bidder in the water treatment plant project and the firm handling the engineering and designing of the project for the city may bring the cost of the project into line with the city's available funds for it, City Manager Rolfe Wagner told the City Commission Monday, September 27.

Bids on the project were opened Thursday, September 23, and the low bidders came in at $466,854 above anticipated costs.

Sunset Construction Company out of Fort Lauderdale bid $498,054 on the raw water and booster pump station. The city and Briley, Wild and Associates, the engineering firm handling the account for the city, had anticipated a cost of $460,000.

Bids on that phase of the project ranged up to $604,000.

W.E.D. Contractors out of Winter Haven submitted the low bid of $2,668,500 on the water plant improvements part of the project.

The city was expecting that phase to cost about $2,250,000.

According to City Manager Rolfe Wagner and Mayor Thomas L. Altman, the engineers are examining the bids and negotiating with the low bidder in an attempt to bring the costs into line with available revenues.

"It is beginning to look like... they're beginning to see some hope that they can bring the project in within the city's available funds," said Wagner.

The city is funding the project through a bond issue, and Altman said there is a remote possibility that when the city issues the balance of the bonds for the sewage treatment plant project it will include funding to make up the difference.

He said it is more likely that there will be some scaling back in the project to meet the projected costs.

One area that might be considered for elimination is the lime reclamation project, which could be removed from the project and built at a later date to save some money, he said.

"Contractors sometimes have ideas on cutting costs," he added.

Another area where the city may make up the some of the money is from the removal and replacement portion of the water and sewage treatment plant budget, although that wouldn't be enough, said Altman.

He estimated that the city could only recover about $100,000 of the required funds by that route.

"I think it would be a mistake to just take it (the high bids) and say it's a disaster," said Wagner.

Pahokee seeking grant to cover cost overrun

PAHOKEE - The city of Pahokee is seeking a grant from state to absorb the cost overrun in its water plant expansion.

According to City Engineer Jim Sloane, the cost of the project exceeded the available funds by over $17,600.

A total of $590,880 in grants and change orders had been budgeted for the project.

"I grant you we're over, and I grant you $17,000 is a lot of money," said Sloane. "But I think there's a pretty reasonable chance of getting a grant to cover this."

The council decided to have Sloane write a letter to the appropriate departments in an effort to acquire the grant.

"My understanding in the beginning was that the $590,000 grant would cover the whole damn thing," said Councilman William McKinstry. Sloane told the council that extensions on the project and the addition of the lime storage silo to the project added to the cost of the project and boosted the cost over the available funds.

He also said that perhaps he should have kept a closer watch on the finances of the project, but added that he was never asked to and watching the finances of a project is not usually the job of an engineer. "I think the city's putting too many things in your hands... it's our fault to begin with," said Councilman George Tillin.

"I don't see how we can get around paying it," said McKinstry. "We owe the difference." He suggested the city take precautions in future to avoid getting into that type of "bind" again.

In other business, the council decided not to institute a city recreation program at a cost of $18,000.

"I think that money could be better spent, even a lot less, on improving the facilities in the parks," said Chairman Jon Mock.

Clarence Dixon had asked the city to create a recreation department at a cost of $18,000 with him as director. The council had asked him to submit a detailed proposal itemizing his costs in the program for a year, and also a report on the success of other city programs.

"This is what I got from him," said Councilwoman Ada Bush, waving a yellow, soiled piece of paper with a few type written lines. "Does everybody see that?"

She said the sheet was about Delray Beach's city recreation program.

Dixon did not attend the meeting and the proposal was taken off the agenda for the next meeting.

The council also authorized Mayor Duncan Padgett to write a letter to the Palm Beach County Solid Waste Authority protesting their recent rate hikes for dumping trash at the landfill in Pahokee. It will cost the city $66 to dump a load of trash at the site, according to Richard Mouska, public works director.

In other action:

• Mouska was promoted to Director of Public Works.

He had been acting director since Donnie Martin resigned from the position in May.

• The council decided to attempt to revitalize the Tri-City League after receiving a letter from Belle Glade Mayor Thomas L. Altman on September 27.

"I think we're going to organize in the Glades in order to get any benefits from the coast," said Councilman Ronnie Graydon. "We'd have a lot more clout."

Super Swim rescheduled

BELLE GLADE - Swimmers wanting to raise money for the Leukemia Society of America, Inc., will get a second chance to do just that. The second take of the Leukemia Super Swim Classic will be held at the Belle Glade swimming pool on Sunday, Oct. 3 from 12 noon to 5 p.m.

According to Rosemary Stevens, executive director for the Palm Beach County chapter of the society, the super swim was rescheduled for Sunday because the steady down pour of rain on Sunday, Sept. 28 all but called off the Super Swim.

General Manager Dave Perella of the Holiday Inn gave the society permission to hold the event again, according to Ms. Stevens.

Ms. Stevens said only nine swimmers participated in the event on last Sunday and approximately 80 to 100 swimmers had been anticipated for the event.

Ms. Stevens said the prizes and the rules remain the same.

"The key to the Super swim," Ms. Stevens said, "is to get lots of sponsor pledges and raise the most money possible."

She said swimmers, besides raising money to buy research to defeat leukemia, have the chance to win prizes ranging from admittance to a victory party to a 19-speed bicycle.

Sponsors are given the option of pledging a given amount per lap or pledging a flat amount, no matter how far the swimmer is able to go.

The swimmers can rest in the water, but they can't get out of the pool and start over later.

Anyone can win certain prizes so long as they raise money at particular plateaus.

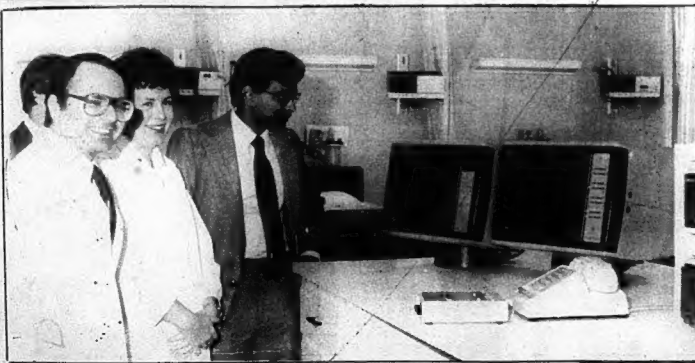

Other prizes will be awarded to the highest moneymakers in the county.

The grand prize is a three day cruise for two aboard the S.S. Emerald Seas. It can be won by anyone, any age. The winner will be the highest amount turned in by an individual swimmer by Oct. 30 and above the level of $500.

Swimmers will be competing countywide for the prize.

If a swimmer raises $25, the prize is admittance to the victory party. At $35, food coupons are added to the prize.

BELLE GLADE - Discussions between the apparent low bidders in the water treatment plant project and the firm handling the engineering and designing of the project for the city may bring the cost of the project into line with the city's available funds for it, City Manager Rolfe Wagner told the City Commission Monday, September 27.

Commission gives budget ok

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission gave final approval to the city's 1992-1993 budget and millage tax rate, but some problems have to be solved before it can be said the budgeting process is complete.

No citizens attended a hearing on the millage rate and budget Monday night, September 27. After the hearing, the city commission gave final approval to the $4.9 million budget, and set the millage rate at $4.85 per $1,000 of assessed value on real and personal property.

Problems arising after the city department heads and commission had completed their work on the budget could still change the document, however.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said Monday night that the commission was expecting a $264,663 federal revenue sharing allocation when it was working on balancing the budget earlier this year.

After work on the budget was completed, they were informed that the allocation would be decreased to $180,061.

That problem has to be resolved before the city can consider allocating more funds for certain projects, Altman told a representative of the Community Action Council. Linda Evans, a representative of the council, was present at the city commission meeting later that night, asking for an increase in the city's donation to the council.

The city had budgeted $1,000 for the CAC.

"Only a thousand dollars wouldn't help us too much," said Evans, who added that coastal cities had contributed more to the CAC in their areas. Altman told Evans that many coastal cities are in better fiscal condition than Belle Glade.

"There was time during the budgeting process when we didn't think we were gonna be able to contribute anything," he said.

In its budgeting process, the CAC had anticipated a $20,000 donation from Belle Glade. South Bay's share was anticipated to be $15,000, but that city contributed $1,600, Evans said.

Altman asked if there were other ways the city could assist the council other than through money.

"The problem we have is that we just don't have the money," he said. "I think the entire commission would like to do what it can."

Evans mentioned transportation as one area that the city could be of help to the council.

In the past the city had provided services to organizations, such as the CAC, which receive matching funds from other agencies, and that organization would receive credit towards matching funds, said Altman.

Evans said she would approach the city commission at a later date with an alternate proposal. The commission held a regular meeting after the public hearing.

In other business, it:

- Presented a resolution expressing appreciation to Bert A. Roemer. Roemer had served on the Advisory Committee from its inception until earlier this year.

- Discussed the possibility of annexing the bowling alley on South Main Street and zoning it for alcoholic beverage consumption.

Tom Bonavie told the commission that he and Gordon Carter are in the process of purchasing the property and are trying to decide what they are going to do with it.

One option they are interested in is continuing its use as a bowling alley with a lounge. He said he was present at the meeting to determine how the city commissioners felt about annexing the property into the city and zoning it for alcoholic beverage consumption on the premises.

"I'd like to see it continue as a bowling alley and I have no objection to the lounge," said Altman.

"Well, I'm gonna surprise you, cause I'd agree to it," said Commissioner George Goforth, Jr.

"The only thing I'd be concerned about is they (previous owners) had a habit of bringing carnivals in, and I hope you don't plan to fool around with those," said Commissioner Claude A. Tindall.

"They only take money out of the city," agreed Commissioner William A. Grear.

Commissioner Charles D. Goodlett said he would be in favor of the annexation and zoning if no carnivals were held.

Bonavie said he has no intention of bringing in carnivals, and Altman added that if the city annexes the property, the owners would have to follow city laws and regulations concerning that way.

- Decided to look into the possibility of allowing the Garden Club to hold its meetings in a city building.

The Garden Club, which meets the second Thursday of every month, asked permission to use the Belle Glade Civic Center free of charge.

In addition to City Recreation Director Johnny Rutledge, Alene McAllister, vice president of the club, stated that club members had worked on landscaping the building when it was first built and were told they could use the building.

The city has torn down its old meeting building in McDonald Park and the club has since been meeting in the homes of members, the latter stated.

The club has grown too much to continue using homes, it continued.

Grear suggested the club be allowed to meet in meeting halls in City Hall if possible because of the cost of air conditioning the Civic Center. If that isn't possible, the commission will probably permit the club to meet at the center.

- Scheduled a reorganization meeting for 9 a.m. Friday, October 1. Items on that agenda will include election of commission officers and a Community Development agreement with the county.

Altman and Goodlett were sworn in Monday night to new terms of office, and after every election the commission reorganizes.

- Scheduled a workshop meeting for 7 p.m. Monday, October 4. The legislative agenda will be discussed at the meeting.

- Rescheduled the Monday, October 11 meeting for Tuesday, October 12. October 11 is Columbus Day.

Search to start for manager

BELLE GLADE - The Belle Glade City Commission will probably start searching soon for a new city manager to replace Rolfe Wagner.

Wagner announced his intention to resign two weeks ago.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said he thinks the commission will start its search "fairly soon." He expects him (Wagner) to be gone fairly soon.

Altman also said he thinks the city commissioners would like to bring someone in from private business. The city will probably advertise for the open position, but at the same time will "keep an eye out" for someone from the private sector with the right qualifications.

Wagner announced two weeks ago that he and the city commission had reached "an amiable agreement," permitting him to proceed with his desire to "return to his native Southwest both for geographical preference and to be closer to aged parents."

Wagner had been with the city for about 18 months.

Pahokee budget passed, includes chamber aid

By JEFF BROWN

PAHOKEE - The Pahokee City Council Tuesday night, September 28, gave its first approval to a budget which includes $10,000 in assistance to the Chamber of Commerce and the Pahokee museum.

No one objected to the budget or the millage rate at a hearing just prior to the adoption of the items. The millage rate was fixed at $4.72 per $1,000 assessed property valuation on real and personal property.

Up to $3,000 of the money set under "Advertising" for use by the chamber and museum can be used by the museum on an "as needed basis" at the council's approval.

The remainder of the funds are to be used by the chamber under the same conditions.

The council had earlier decided against turning over to the chamber control of the city owned building that houses the chamber, the museum and the city Red Cross office.

The chamber's board of directors had asked the council for assistance because it was broke, and the council decided to look into the possibility of allowing the chamber to move into the quarters currently occupied by the museum.

The directors said they could keep the museum open for use, something the Woman's Club had not been able to do. The museum is a Woman's Club project.

As a special workshop session last week, representatives of the Woman's Club told the council that they intended to open the museum by October 1, and would like to keep the chamber separate from the chamber office.

The council agreed to that. Later that week, the council budgeted the money for assistance to the museum.

The final hearing and approval of the budget for the 1992-1993 fiscal year is expected to come at an adjourned session of the council Tuesday, October 5.

Decorating your home with tropical plants

The spectacular shapes, colors and textures of tropical foliage plants make them ideal decorative accessories in any room setting.

Many popular houseplants are so understanding and easy to grow, they sometimes need less care than the furniture.

Interior designers and decorators frequently use tropical foliage plants to camouflage architectural defects.

For example, a useless wall niche can become the focal point of a room when filled with an assortment of palms, fronds by a tall Kasian palm, fringed by a collection of smaller plants and pots of flowering mums.

Create a tropical backdrop. Living greenery will neutralize dead space between free-standing pots and wall. A tropical backdrop can be created by filling the void with palms in assorted heights, large-leaf dracaenas and Chinese evergreens.

A long, narrow room with a window at the far end can be made to appear wider by installing a wall-to-wall planter beneath the window.

If the light is moderately bright, fill the planter with a

MOST VARIETIES OF PALMS, including the seldom butterfly seen here, grow surprisingly well indoors and under adverse lighting conditions.

Woman critical after crash

BELLE GLADE - A Vero Beach woman was in critical condition earlier in the week after the automobile she was driving collided with a tractor trailer on state road 80 Saturday, September 25.

According to Florida Highway Patrol reports, Mary Wise, 29, of Vero Beach, was westbound on 80 at about 1:30 a.m. when she crossed the center line and struck a truck driven in the east-bound lane by Henry Clyde Turner, 42, of West Palm Beach.

Wine was taken to Glades General Hospital and later transferred to Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach where she was listed in critical condition, according to the report. Charges are pending.

Juvenile held in cutting

PAHOKEE - A 16-year-old juvenile male was arrested and charged with aggravated battery last week in connection with a cutting incident at Pahokee High School.

According to the Pahokee Police Department reports, a 14-year-old male required 15 or more stitches to close a cut on the left cheek after the 15-year-old allegedly cut him with a bottle. The juveniles were fighting after school because of an argument in class, according to the report.

Shooting charged

BELLE GLADE - A Belle Glade resident was arrested Saturday, September 25, in connection with a Saturday morning shooting incident.

Lotus Charlie, 27, of 511 SW Fifth Street, is in custody under $10,000 bond and facing one charge of shooting into an occupied building and two counts of aggravated assault.

According to the police reports, Charlie allegedly stood in the front parking lot of the apartment building located at 409 SW Avenue C, and fired three times with a handgun into apartment seven. One bullet struck the outside wall and two entered the apartment through a window and lodged in the ceiling.

The apartment was occupied by David Clavy, who lives at the address, and Wana Beauneque, at the time.

According to police reports Charlie told investigating officers that he shot at the dwelling because Clavy owes him money from a lottery ticket. Clavy denied the allegation. Charlie also supposedly told police that he would shoot Clavy if he was released from jail and denied any involvement in the shooting.

Patrolman Aurelio Rodriguez investigated the incident.

Coalition adopts standards

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - The Palm Beach County Housing and Community Development Coalition is pushing for the adoption by county governments of standard rehabilitation and housing guidelines.

The coalition, chaired by Ramer M. Harvin, the Community Development and Planning Director for Belle Glade, adopted the guidelines at its September 23, meeting, according to Harvin.

Get out and vote

Tuesday, October 5, is another election, and we urge all Glades residents to get out and vote.

Glades voters are a minority in the state and county, so non-voters are even more detrimental here than in coastal regions and the northern areas.

Make your voice heard. Vote for your preferences in Tuesday's run-off. There are many issues affecting the Glades, including roads, unemployment and the education of the young, and the only way those problems can be solved to the benefit of Glades residents is through leadership which hears us and knows that we are watching. A good turnout here can have that effect.

So come Tuesday, vote. The whole area is depending on it.

Lack of manager shows

A little less than a year ago, the citizens of Pahokee rejected a change in the city charter which would have changed the municipal government from the present council form to a city manager form.

The council had already budgeted $20,000 for a city manager in case the voters agreed to the change and a manager had to be hired.

The rejection didn't legally prevent the council from hiring a manager or administrator, but it made it politically inexpedient.

This week, the chickens have come home to roost, as the saying goes.

Engineer Jim Sloane told the council that one of the reasons the costs of the city's water project went over budget and available funds was because the city had no manager, finance director or administrator who could keep an eye on the funds and costs of the project.

The project exceeded available funds by over $17,600. That is just one project, and it almost makes up the $20,000 budgeted by the council for the city manager's position.

If a city manager was hired and had kept close watch on the city finances throughout the year, perhaps he or she could have saved the city even more.

But no city manager was hired because the citizens decided one wasn't needed.

That's their loss, because it's their tax dollars they're wasting while services continue to be cut.

We urge the city council to consider hiring an administrator or city manager. Here is one case where the voters were wrong, and disobeying their wishes could only help.

THE BELLE GLADE HERALD
OCTOBER 4, 1953

A contest was started to name the hospital meant to serve the Southwest Palm Beach County Hospital District.

The contest was begun along with news a bond election would be held on Nov. 6, simultaneously with the general election, to decide whether voters wanted to issue a $1.2 million bond.

The bond money would be used to pay for construction and acquisition of a new hospital and for additions, extensions and improvements to the existing hospital.

A first prize of a $50 bond was being offered in the naming contest, with second and third place prizes of $25 and $5 bonds.

Construction of the new Glades Sugar House was going ahead full blast, despite inclement weather.

The new sugar mill was owned by 51 Glades residents and was being built to grind 22,000 acres of sugar cane.

During its first season, it was expected to produce 75,000 tons of raw sugar and 4.5 million gallons of blackstrap molasses.

Sanitation department cleaning city

TO THE CITIZENS OF BELLE GLADE

An all out effort is being made by your sanitation department to clean up our city. We need your help.

We want very much to provide you the best service possible at your residence and at your business. To do this we will be seeking help from you, from civic organizations, the health department and the police department.

Let's all pitch in together and make Belle Glade a cleaner place to live.

As a step to improve the emptying of bulk containers (dumpsters), I have asked help from the local police department to strictly enforce the city ordinance requiring that no vehicle park within 15 feet of a container. Also, wherever possible, we are removing dumpsters from the streets to aid with parking problems and street cleaning operations.

Planning and preparation was begun for planting oats at Hillsboro Plantation to produce cat feed and chlorophyll.

Two drivers were also being made ready for installation on the property which was purchased by Orlando Farms, Inc.

The property was that which had been used by Hillsboro Plantation for its own farming and packing operations and included what was known as the old ramie building as well as the packing house.

Studies made at the Everglades Experiment Station and elsewhere were all used to determine the best types of crops to be grown on the property.

Orlando Farms already had a large feed and chlorophyll operation on muck soil in Zellwood and was in a good condition to compare the two operations.

The same interests were reported to have purchased several thousand acres of land in the northern part of the state for the same crops.

The chlorophyll was to be processed at a plant in Lake Worth, which was also extracting chlorophyll from rice, ragweed, broccoli, peas and other grasses.

Seven candidates were running for three seats in the South Bay city election and the three incumbents and four challengers were making speeches and house-to-house canvasses.

The incumbents trying for re-election were Mayor M.J. Hardy and Commissioners Melvin Herring and J.C. Summerlin.

The challengers were J.L. Brown, H.L. Delaney, S.J. Fisher and F.W. Kelley.

There were 306 registered voters eligible to elect a slate of three commissioners.

Belle Glade Herald writers obviously became involved in a Belle Glade-Clewiston football game which they said was nerve-racking to watch.

"Blind officials, fumbles, clipping, personal fouls and a blocked kick marred the brilliant defensive stands made by the Rams three times, and gave Clewiston an official win of 2-0.

"Clewiston made approximately twice as many yards in gains with Belle Glade in possession of the ball as they did when they had it," the story reads. "Their score was made with the ball in Belle Glade's possession."

The story quoted school officials as saying the referee was supposed to be one of the best available but said he made opposite calls in identical situations three minutes apart.

The calls were made on whether two passes were complete. One made by Belle Glade was called incomplete while a Clewiston effort was good.

J.F. McClure, the former manager of the Western Auto store in Pahokee, wrote home from Midland Army Flying School in Midland, Tex. where he'd designed a model of Tokyo.

Job program starts Sunday

TALLAHASSEE—A concerted effort to open more job opportunities for Glades area handicapped workers began Sunday in conjunction with Governor Bob Graham's proclamation of October 3-9 as Employ the Handicapped Week in Florida.

Secretary Wallace E. Orr of the Department of Labor and Employment Security said the Belle Glade local office of the Florida State Employment Service will conduct promotional activities to focus area employer attention to the benefits of hiring handicapped workers. The activities will include an intensive handicapped worker job placement effort. "Handicapped workers are an important asset that local business and industry cannot afford to overlook," Orr said.

He said studies have shown that handicapped workers, properly trained, either meet or exceed all job performance standards.

"There is no evidence that training costs or workers' compensation premiums increased when handicapped applicants were hired," Orr added.

Further information about Employ the Handicapped Week activities can be obtained from the Florida State Employment Service.

discussed that as many of the public as could get there could see it and there must have been 5,000 cars that turned out for it.

"The bombing of this Tokyo was our contribution to the celebration of July 4th and what a bombing it was," he said.

"Two raids were made on Tokyo, one in the early afternoon that practically demolished it and another at 10 o'clock at night that finished up the job in good style."

McClure was designated as airdrome maintenance officer.

The News carried a story about a $15,000 diamond and ruby brooch that was lost in Palm Beach and returned to the owner a day later after changing hands three times, twice for 75 cents and once, on approval for $1.

A woman named Lily May Williams said the pin was sold to her for 75 cents and she tried to sell it to a root doctor.

He took the matter and the pin under consideration, then Ms. Williams noticed the pin advertised in the lost and found column.

She tried to get the pin back but the root doctor said it had been stolen so she reported it to the police.

The doctor told the police he had lost the pin in a skin game, asking $1 for it but only being allowed 75 cents.

The owner got her pin back and Ms. Williams got a reward.

The state supreme court demanded that the Everglades Drainage District explain why, after being ordered to do so, it hadn't assessed residents for 1952 taxes.

The writ issued by the court was requested by two Escambia County men who held $25,000 of a $9 million outstanding bond issue.

The plaintiffs said the district had defaulted on part of the principal and all the interest on its bonds and no effort was being made to assess taxes.

The district was expected to explain in court the next week that the reason it had failed to levy 1952 taxes was because a suit in federal court had tied up its operating funds.

The federal suit was filed by an Ohio man who was also a bondholder.

Haircuts throughout the upper Everglades were being maintained at 40 cents a whack while shaves were still 25 cents.

The price for haircuts had been half a dollar for as far as anyone could remember, then hard times set in and the price dropped to two bits.

"Having heard that property had turned the corner and having read that the Everglades had the depression whipped," a story read, "and was leading the nation back to normalcy, the barbers did the natural thing," compromising with 40 cent prices.

"The only trouble," the story said, "is that so many of the cash customers lost their hair and went bald-headed worrying about the depression."

It was a fact, wrote News reader Jack Winne of Torry Island, sandpups would grow on the muck, but only if it were good muck.

Winne was answering a question brought up in The Everglades News.

"Around my house on the island," he said, "there are sandpups, lots of them, and they are the sticking kind and I think they'd grow the year round if I let them, but I'm digging them out."

Landscaping to save fuel

Many residents enjoy using foliage plants to brighten up their indoor landscaping, but many people lack the knowledge of how to care for them properly.

To assist residents in selecting and using interior plants, Gene Joyner, Urban Horticulturist with the Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Service, will be conducting a series of free slide-illustrated lectures on interior plants and their care on Friday, Oct. 8 at 9:30 a.m., at the Glades Extension Office, 2979 North 441, Belle Glade.

In addition to the slide-illustrated lecture pamphlets on the care of interior plants will be given out to those attending.

Everyone is welcome regardless of race, color, sex, or national origin.

For additional information call 863-1777 weekdays from 8:30 to 8:00.

A visit to the Belle Glade Municipal Library during October will give you an extra opportunity to learn about the benefits of a beautiful landscape. The library will feature a photographic display and landscaped model home which demonstrates the energy savings which are possible through landscaping. This same display can be viewed at the Pahokee

Municipal Library in November. This program is open to everyone regardless of race, color, sex, or national origin.

LORETTA HODYSS, left, and Molly Stone discuss the energy savings possible through landscaping. This display will be featured at the Belle Glade Municipal Library during October.

Pot plot burned

BELLE GLADE—A field of marijuana plants discovered by a duck hunter over the weekend was destroyed by officers from the Glades sub-station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department earlier this week.

According to Detective Cliff Simonds, about 90 plants were discovered underneath the powerlines on Powerline Road off of Brown's Farm Road. The plants were uprooted, doused with diesel and burned by the department.

Simonds said some of the plants were about three inches in diameter and the total street value of the harvested plants was estimated to be between $25,000 and $50,000.

The matter is still under investigation, he said. Simonds was assisted by Detective John Braido.

City seeks grant

BELLE GLADE—Belle Glade is seeking its share of state funds earmarked for assisting local governments in the design and engineering of sewage treatment plants.

According to City Manager Rodie Wagner, about $1,000,000 in grants are available statewide to assist municipalities which have difficulty obtaining the funds needed for designing and constructing sewage treatment plants.

"There's a limited sum available state-wide," he said. "It's not a large amount of money, but every little bit helps."

The city is currently in the planning stages of building a new sewage plant.

Crusaders win 7 - 0 in 4th quarter

BELLE GLADE - The Christian Day Crusaders are becoming masters of the late victory.

Two weeks ago, the Crusaders clinched a 28-20 victory in double overtime over Westminster Academy.

Last Friday, they waited for the last quarter to score the only touchdown of the game and claim a 7-0 victory from St. Edwards.

The Crusaders dominated the contest in almost all departments, particularly in defense. Their defense held the St. Edwards ground attack to just three yards and gave up no points.

"The defensive line and linebackers did a tremendous job," said Coach James Jacks. "We have to work on our secondary."

St. Edwards ate up the Crusader secondary in the first half, passing the ball with ease. At the end of the game, passing was the only area of the game in which St. Edwards held an edge. St. Edwards completed eight of 18 passes for 118 yards.

In the second half, the Crusaders settled down and dominated the game, which went scoreless through three and a half quarters.

Late in the third quarter, Pipo Paetz intercepted a St. Edwards pass and the Crusaders retained possession at midfield.

They drove to the three yard line and James Barnwell carried the ball up the middle with three down to within one inch of the first down. St. Edwards took possession and drove to the nine yard line. St. Edwards punted and the Crusaders took possession at the 31.

Christian Day drove to the six in six plays and Philip Echols carried the ball up the middle for a touchdown with 7:08 on the clock.

Christian Day tried to score late in the game but was thwarted when a touchdown scored by Philip Echols on an end run was called back because of a clipping penalty.

Philip Echols was the leading rusher on the team, carrying the ball 17 times for 73 yards and one touchdown. Quarterback Alex Morales rushed for 26 yards in six carries and Pipo Paetz carried the ball 18 yards in nine carries. Paetz also intercepted St. Edwards passes twice.

Mirto Vigne carried the ball twice for nine yards and also intercepted a pass.

Robert Echols was the Crusaders' leading pass receiver, carrying the ball for 40 yards in four completions. Vigne was second with seven yards in one completion.

Alon Morales completed five of 18 passes for 47 yards and threw two interceptions.

The Crusaders picked up 12 first downs and St. Edwards got only six.

The Crusaders two punts averaged 31.5 yards and St. Edwards averaged 27.8 yards in two punts.

St. Edwards fumbled the ball three times and lost the ball once and the Crusaders fumbled six times and lost the ball twice.

CDJ was penalized eight times for 70 yards and St. Edwards lost 70 yards on six penalties.

The Crusaders are 3-1 and meet Miami Christian at Miami on Saturday.

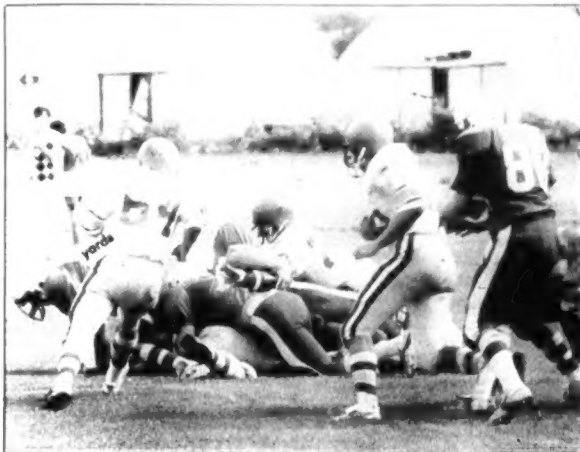

Jacks said he intends to work on the team's pass defense and penalties this week.

"Every week, we've made more and more improvements. We hope to have all the kinks worked out by this week," he said.

Crusader field dedicated

BELLE GLADE - Approximately 100 supporters of the Christian Day School football team turned out Friday to see the Crusaders defeat St. Edwards on their new football field.

Prior to the start of the game, dedication services were held for the school's new football field.

The field, located at Six Mile Bend was dedicated in honor of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Chamblee. Chamblee Farms, Inc., donated the property for the construction of the field to the local private school.

Ms. Gloria King, principal of the school, head football coach James Jacks and assistant coach John Chamblee participated in the ribbon cutting ceremony.

The Rev. Robert Atkins, pastor of the First Baptist Church gave the invocation and Robin Waggoner, choral director at Christian Day sang the National Anthem.

Following the dedication ceremony, the Crusaders went on to win their first game 7-0 against St. Edwards on Chamblee Field.

Playing on Chamblee Field, the Christian Day School Crusaders defeated St. Edwards 7-0 behind the playing of quarterback Alex Morales, Robert and Philip Echols and Pipo Paetz.

Philip Echols carries the ball in for the Crusaders first and only touchdown of the game. The touchdown was all the Crusaders needed as it was the made during the game.

The cheerleaders at Christian Day School did their part Friday to add excitement to the game.

3rd-ranked Pahokee powers Jupiter

PAHOKEE - Third ranked Pahokee "Blue Devils" overpowered the Jupiter Warriors Friday night to win their second football game of the season.

The Devils are ranked only two notches behind neighboring Clewiston High School in the Class 2-A poll.

The undefeated Devils rolled up 200 yards and tight-end Walter Johnson caught six passes for 77 yards as the Devils defeated the Warriors 12-0. Senior running back Jeff Mullins scored the two Pahokee touchdowns. Mullins first touchdown came in the first quarter and his last during the closing minutes of the game.

Mullins carried the ball in from the five yard line for his first touchdown.

Paul Buxton helped Mullins with 66 yards rushing for 15 carries. Antonio Wilson, who connected on 7 of 17 passes, provided a lot on the offense, along with Johnson.

The Blue Devil defense held Jupiter to minus 28 yards in total offense.

Jupiter's most effective offensive weapon, the passing of quarterback Jody King, was neutralized by the rainy weather and effective Blue Devil defensive. King was able to complete three passes for a loss of 6 yards.

Pahokee leads the Suncoast West in Team Defense statistics with minus 7 yards rushing and minus 4 yards passing.

Walter Johnson is seventh county-wide in receiving with 140 yards.

"Taking it From The Top"

by Dr. David T. Evans

Today the "Golden Rule" is out of date. It is the "old fashioned rule." Today it is important to be a survivor. Play it cool. Or what's in it for me. "Don't have up this hill!"

This philosophy has brought crime, divorce, death and unhappiness. The broken homes, bodies and lives are a part of today's scene.

Many thinkers agree that the greatest problem of the twentieth century is the problem of relationships. It is not social, economic or political but our own personal relationships with people.

To the complex society of our own relationships Jesus says, simply, "Treat other people exactly as you would like to be treated by them." Is this old fashioned in the eighties of jets, lasers, jeans and country music?

Jesus continued, "This is the essence of all true religion." It better be or we will never enjoy the pleasures of today.

The problem boils down to the fact that we are not able to take Jesus' summary of the ten commandments seriously. "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul and with all your mind." This is the first commandment and the second is like it, "You shall love your neighbor as yourself;" on these two commandments depend all the law and the prophets.

Jesus here says three things. Begin with the love of God, love yourself honestly, and then you can love your neighbor.

The trouble is that we begin with self. For the most part our lives begin and end with ourselves. The key is to begin with God.

We must begin with God so that we can live with our neighbor. It is only after we have looked into the face of God that we realize our need of His help.

As we have a close relationship with God we realize what rebels, violators, sinners are. On this we come closer to comprehending how wretched and foul we are.

As we begin to see our true value and the depth of our need, we are then able to see our neighbors and understand them.

Many people say "I want to get down to the simple gospel. I want to live by the Sermon on the Mount and the Golden Rule."

This is fine but we must begin with the acceptance of God's love that is offered to us in Jesus Christ. There is more to this than praise; it is living it.

Living is not meant to be a mechanical performance but it is the realization that the law of God is essentially spiritual and a part of our everyday living. We must have the spirit of God in our hearts before we can live with our fellows.

Basically we begin with the desire of the law and the God who has given it to us. We think of God's law as something that prohibits us from enjoying life.

God's law is to protect us so that we can live and enjoy life. His law enables us to control our energies and use them in the right way.

If we have the love of God in our hearts then we can live with others, because we have learned to understand ourselves. The first act is to turn to God and see Him in all His holiness and greatness and creativity.

As we look upon God we realize that He and His love are worthy to be praised and worshipped. It is only as we see God in His greatness and ourselves totally in need of Him that we can have the right relationship with others who are in the same need.

The "Golden Rule" is not old fashioned but as new tomorrow. It is as practical as the can opener and as necessary as the key to your car, but we must begin with God.

years. "I'm looking forward to being head coach. It's going to be a pretty good experience, but it'll be rough for a while. It's going to take a little time, but we have potential to be better than last year."

Code —

Boca Raton has already adopted the standards.

The guidelines would set minimum requirements for the construction and rehabilitation of housing in the areas under the jurisdiction of government agencies which adopt them.

Harvin said he hopes all the governments in Palm Beach County adopt the guidelines, creating a county-wide uniform code.

"In order to be totally effective, they have to be adopted by all government units," he said.

Belle Glade currently has a code, but adoption of the coalition's guidelines by the city and other government agencies in the county, including housing authorities and the county government, would create a uniform code to be followed by all construction firms in Palm Beach County.

The proposed guidelines set minimum standards in all aspects of construction, including concrete mixing, floor construction, roofing and even the type of nails to be used in certain stages.

Harvin will be examining the guidelines as part of his effort to have them adopted by the city, he said.

Mayor Thomas L. Altman said the city commission will probably be discussing the guidelines at a future workshop meeting on legislative items.

"We're gonna have to have another series of workshops on our legislative agenda," said Altman. "We're gonna have to move full speed on that. And it (the guidelines and expected housing code revisions) will probably be the first thing we look at."

Altman said he has not seen the proposed guidelines and could not comment on them.

Glades General Opens Unit

BELLE GLADES—Glades General Hospital can offer Glades residents coronary care compatible with care offered in coastal hospitals.

The hospital opened a new Critical Care Unit Friday and the unit is equipped with the newest and possibly the best equipment in the nation.

Hospital Administrator Patrick Lennon and members of the Critical Care Unit staff gave members of the press a preview of the new unit

Friday morning.

The unit, located on the second floor of the hospital, replaces a six-bed pediatric unit since the opening of a pediatric unit on the third floor.

Lennon said the hospital purchased a $148,000 package of equipment from Hewlett-Packard which includes a computer that will analyze every heartbeat of every patient in the unit.

Russell Robbins, an installation engineer and sales representative of Hewlett-Packard said the equipment is the newest on the market.

Robbins said that while the monitor and the computer equipment are in use at other hospitals, the software is the first to be installed in Florida, and so far as he knows in the nation.

The new equipment can monitor patients who have suffered heart attacks and strokes and give such information as continuous flow charts, graphs, solar graphs, and blood pressure charts.

To operate the equipment and on hand for the demonstration were Dr. Chandre Venogopal, the cardiologist who's the director of the unit, Dr. Jaimy Benaimon, another cardiologist, Dr. Roy Brown, hospital chief of staff, and Jane Birchhead, the Critical Care Unit nursing supervisor.

Dr. Venogopal said Glades General is no longer in competition with West Palm Beach. "We're competing with Miami," he said.

Dr. Venogopal said once a patient is stabilized and is able to move around, he or she will be assigned to another room, but the computer will keep an eye out with the help of a monitor.

Although the equipment was quite expensive for a hospital the size of Glades General, Dr. Brown said he felt the hospital should have the best because of its distance from coastal hospitals.

Lennon said the unit will be manned 24 hours by a clerk and there will be one registered nurse for every two patients.

When the unit is fully occupied, three nurses and clerk will man the unit, according to Lennon.

Lennon said the nurses and doctors who will staff the critical care unit have been attracted to Glades General through an intensive recruiting program.

Dr. Venogopal of New Jersey since his arrival at Glades General has already implemented the Glades first temporary heart pace maker.

With the new unit, Dr. Brown said patients who have a heart attack won't have to be transported to the coast. "The first hour following a heart attack is the most critical," said Brown. "Now we can treat patients during that first crucial hour," he added.

Also on hand for the demonstration was Mrs. Sandra Chambliss, a member of the hospital board and a former board chairman.

Senate supports sugar program

The Senate voted Thursday, September 23, 1982 to continue supporting a sugar program designed to stabilize prices and supplies for both American consumers and the domestic sugar industry.

By a two-to-one margin, the Senate voted to table the so-called Quayle-Tonagas amendment that would have reduced the loan level of 17 cents a pound for raw sugar to only 14 cents.

The overwhelming 2-1 vote by the Senate, the third time in 13 months the Senate has voted 2-1 in favor of a domestic sugar industry, is a major victory for both sugar farmers and consumers, said Dalton Yancey, vice president and general manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League. "If the amendment had passed, the cost to Florida farmers alone would have been $60 million. The effects on the entire domestic industry could have been devastating."

The Senate action came on a motion by Sen. Robert Dole (R-Kans.) to table the amendment proposed by Sen. J. Danforth Quayle (R-Ind.) and Paul Tsongas (D-Mass.). The Senate voted 60-31 to table.

In voting to kill the amendment, Sen. Mark Andrews (R-N.D.) pointed out that "17 cents is a very modest price designed to keep the American sugar-producing industry going."

Sen. Max Baucus (D-Mont.) testified during debate that reductions in raw sugar prices are rarely passed to consumers. "This amendment (Quayle-Tsongas) will not save U.S. consumers any money," said Baucus. "It would lead to the demise of our domestic sugar industry."

The domestic sugar industry is composed of 16,000 farmers, over 100,000 sugar workers and an additional 250,000 persons whose jobs are directly affected by the industry.

the party admission.

The victory party will be held at the Belle Glade Municipal Center and a disc jockey from radio station FM99.1ZD will provide the musical entertainment, according to Ma Stevens.

Raising $60 entitled the swimmer to both the earlier prizes as well as a winner's certificate and admission to a bonus party, while $65 gets a T-shirt and $85 brings admittance to bowling, skating or movies.

The prize list continues to grow as the amount of money increases, said Ms. Stevens.

The sponsors for the local Super Swim are First American Bank, Dino's Pizza and the Wellington Club.

Atlantic Sugar wins safety award

U.S. Sugar Corporation received the annual safety award at the 16th Annual Florida Sugar Cane Conference. Norm

Schmidt, center, presents the plaque to J.D. Stacey and Nick Smith of U.S. Sugar.

BELLE GLADE—Atlantic Sugar Association, one of two big award winners at the 16th Annual Florida Sugar Cane Safety Conference, received a new award citing the association for its overall safety record.

The conference, sponsored by the Florida Sugar Cane League, was held Thursday, Sept. 23 at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center at Palm Beach Junior College-Gladys Campus.

Atlantic Sugar received the "Best Overall Safety" award from Norm Schmidt of the state worker compensation bureau. Ernesto Priede accepted the award for the association.

U.S. Sugar Corp. received the annual safety award presented to the mill having the fewest accidents among cane cutters over the past year.

U.S. Sugar Corp. Vice-President in charge of Agriculture J.D. Stacey and Safety Director Nick Smith accepted the award.

Alex Kane, a safety expert with the National Safety Council in Chicago was the keynote speaker for the conference and spoke to approximately 200 representatives.

Kane spoke on the conference's theme: "Eliminate Unnecessary Man Accidents."

Kane said that why many businessmen believe money spent on accidents is well spent, he believes it's money wasted.

He said experts have come to the conclusion that for every dollar of direct loss due to an accident, $3 is lost in hidden cost, all of which comes out of the profits.

Because of that, he said sugar companies would have to market and sell more than $17,000 worth of sugar and molasses to cover a $600 accident.

Using a workbook passed out to all conference participants, Kane made his point, by having them define an accident, then carried them through a process to show how first-line supervisors can make more money by reducing the number of accidents.

Chris Paganetti, director of public relations for the League and National Farm Safety Week was Sept. 20 through 24 and the conference was held to coincide with the national observance.

Dakon Yancey, Vice-President and General Manager of the Florida Sugar Cane League and members of the Safety Committee planned the annual conference.

Members of the committee were H.T. Vaughn, Jr. of U.S. Sugar Corp., Nick Smith, U.S. Sugar Corp., Chris Davison, Ocala Farms Company; Charles Schiele, Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, F.A. Imaga, Gulf and Western Food Products Co., and Ernesto Priede of Atlantic Sugar Association.

Joyner to conduct clinic

A plant clinic will be conducted by Gene Joyner, Urban Horticulturist, Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Service, at the Glades agricultural office, 2970 North 441, on Friday, Oct. 4, from 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

Many people have problems with various plants in their landscapes and need help in diagnosing what the problem is and how to correct it. This plant clinic is set up for the purpose of allowing the public to bring in any problems they are having with their trees, shrubbery, or lawns, and an agent will be available to look at the samples and diagnose the problem.

Bulletins on various subjects are also available at the agricultural Extension office and those attending the plant clinic are certainly encouraged to pick up bulletins of interest to them.

Persons who are unable to come to the agricultural office during the clinic hour may call in plant problems to 936-1656 and Gene Joyner will try to answer your questions over the phone.

This free clinic is not a formal class or lecture and is conducted on a very informal basis. Anyone having plant problems is encouraged to attend.
